1. The management of each civilian government enterprise calculates the prices to be charged for its products.
 - a. According to government orders the enterprises in calculating the price of their products or the projects they have completed must include a government tax which varies from 100 to 1,000 per cent of the employees' wages.
 - (1) Construction enterprises pay a 100 per cent tax;
 - (2) Textile factories pay a 450 per cent tax; and
 - (3) Leather goods factories pay a 900 per cent tax.
2. At the end of the year enterprises which have shown a profit must give 60 per cent of the profit to the government. After deductions have been made for amortization of existing facilities and for new investment, the remainder is divided among the employees in proportion to their wages. The usual amount that an employee receives as his share of the profit is about equivalent to one month's salary.
3. All government enterprises are financed by the Yugoslav National Bank. The bank has 27 branches in Belgrade and many other branches throughout Yugoslavia.
